

WE NOMINATE

Zelda Eiz Laschever (Mrs. E. Frederick), the wonderfully energetic mother of four sons, whose concepts of "seeing and doing" as contrasted with traditional methods of "teaching by the book" have added new and exciting dimensions to the educational experiences of 100's of the youngsters enrolled in the John Witherspoon School. Over the past two years Mrs. Laschever, a major contributor to the successes of now defunct and deeply missed Princeton Junior Museum, has — through a series of "do-it-yourself" exhibitions and special projects — brought to the halls of Witherspoon the sense of excitement and involvement that is all too often missing in the nation's schools.

This past Tuesday, shortly after she had concluded the five-Saturday Science Workshop she had conducted for 5th graders under the sponsorship of the Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Laschever rang down the curtain on what Broadway critics would have hailed as "still another smash hit." Like its predecessors, "Art," "Sea Fare" (complete with live fish) and "The Senses," Mrs. Laschever's fourth spectacular, "Communication and The Senses," which for a fortnight-plus enthralled its users and viewers, represented uncounted days of volunteer work, enlisted the active support of dozens of members of the Witherspoon Parent-Teacher Organization and endowed any number of children with interests in unexplored fields.

A member of the Class of 1919 at Goucher College, where she majored in biology and minored in bacteriology, and met her physician-husband, this natural-born teacher became re-oriented to the sciences in working with Mrs. Mildred Goldberger in the Junior Museum. She saw that the Museum's basic idea of "touch and play," with youngsters being encouraged to investigate for themselves the "why" and "how" of any and all exhibits, would effectively supplement more conventional educational techniques and would reach even more children than the Museum did.

Indicative of what one calls Mrs. Laschever's "masterly showmanship," and her rare understanding of maturing boys and girls in elementary school, was the Mini-Mini Museum, or "Curiosity Corner," maintained at Witherspoon from late October until Christmas. Designed to give budding scholars insights into the principles and functioning of fundamental machines, it included a battered upright piano with the front removed, three typewriters in dubious condition, a toothless sewing machine, a pulley-style clothesline, adding machines, tuners, giant carpenter's clamps and even an often-twisted block and tackle that would lift the adventurous three feet above the floor.

Convinced that both schools and students would benefit "if parents would do less complaining and more joining in activities at the schools," Mrs. Laschever, a 41-year old native of Trenton and a Princetonian since 1955, whose background includes experience as a bacteriologist in Baltimore and Hartford (Conn.) Hospitals, has involved her family in her programs. For instance the four Laschever sons, all of whom are in Princeton public schools, have helped with a wide variety of construction. The boys also appreciate more and more what it means to their parents, both of whom are ardent and skilled fishermen, when the word comes that "the Blues are running."

For generating contagious youthful enthusiasm for exploring the wonders of the world around us; for developing and sustaining projects which strengthen an excellent school system; for bringing together teachers, administrators, fellow parents and students; she is TOWN TOPICS nominee as

WHERE THERE'S A WILL There's a Way. "I can't remember when I've seen the Princeton kids really get into moderation the way they have a bout Bill Kight! They usually more or less don't care. . . ."
Helene Peterson, involved with Princeton teen agers since
the summer of 1968, unloaded a small mountain of loose
cans and a roll of bills on a desk Monday morning, collected by the town's youth to publish a statement of belief. (See page 33.)

On Tuesday, the Princeton Rotary Club directors met at noon and passed a resolution (see page 2) to "supply the Princeton community with $100's towards a budget in the area of $12,000 for one year."
"Should the Princeton Presbyterian Commission decide to issue its call to Bill Kight," Rotary President J. Burwell
Harrison told members that this may mean an assessment
of as much as $150 per man.

This Sunday evening, the Princeton Presbyterian Commission, composed of clergy
and laymen from the three Princeton churches, will meet
in First Presbyterian Church.
The Commission is considering employing Bill Kight as a Presbyterian minister assigned to continue his work of the past four and one-half years with Princeton youth. The great hurdle has been lack of funds.

William Kight left Princeton last week for his home town of Dayton, O., his studies
at Princeton Theological Seminary completed and his farewells said. "I kind of hate to go," he told TOWN TOPICS.
"But I guess I'm getting to be a political issue here."

While Freeholder Regina
Mercedith may be quoted in the press stating that Princeton is the center of the Mercer County drug problem,
this is a matter that Mr. Kight has found few Princeton parents willing to believe, particularly if their own child is involved.

He has established great rapport with the teenagers. One of his final self assignments
before he left was to take a Princeton boy to the New Jer-

He began his Nassau Street

when he first entered Prince-

St. Andrew's Presbyterian
Church, where he was assistant to the minister, the Rev.
F. Hugh Liffman; and for the past year when he served in a similar capacity at Trinity Episcopal Church.

He was a member of the Committee on Drugs appointed by the Princeton Regional Board of Education. He was TOWN TOPICS Man of the Week in August 1968.

In recent weeks, as his Seminary work was winding up,
concerned young people and individuals began working independently to find ways to keep him in Princeton.

The youth at the Cataconchs,
where he has been a familiar
and trusted adjunct for several years, began a petition,
which Tom Griggs, former president of the Princeton Youth Center now has circulating at Princeton High School. Last Friday, Borough
Mayor Robert Casley, former Mayor Henry Patterson and Nicholas Carnevale of Rotary
appeared at the Cataconchs, expressing to the youth and to Bill Kight, their appreciation
for his work in Princeton.

A week before, Mayor Cas-ley and members of Council had heard strong objections to

Mr. Kight as a potential youth work coordinator from the Princeton Youth Fund, through its representative, John Sjamach, Thomas Hartmann, who holds the youth portfolio on Township Committee, is re-
tomb at First Presbyterian Church, the youth dances at
St. Andrew's Presbyterian
Church, where he was assistant to the minister, the Rev.
F. Hugh Liffman; and for the
past year when he served in a
similar capacity at Trinity Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Mr. Andrews attributes the Borough's failure
to act as a "failure of nerve,"
although he notes that the proposal was drowned in part because there were other considerations to consider, and there was a question as to how Mr.
Kight's job would be fitted in.

Cataconchs manager Barry Peterson, a member of the faculty at Rutgers Preparatory School, helped the teenagers
stage a "benefit" for Mr.
Kight, a sort of last ditch
stand in call upon the people
of Princeton to keep him here.
They held a folk rock show at the Cataconchs, passing the hat
for funds. The place was jammed, with both black and white youngsters.

"They feel," Mrs. Peterson said the following Monday, at TOWN TOPICS, "that they were not represented at the town council. Nobody asked them how they would feel a bout Bill going. The drug problem can't be dealt with by committee, but personally on the street, and this is what Bill was doing. . . ."

Bill Kight attended a meeting of Rotary as the guest of Nicholas Carnevale during his last week here. He spoke ex-temporarily, and according to Fred Blucher, co-impressed
the Rotarians that they began discussing. "Why don't we do something about keeping Kight
here in Princeton?" A subcommittee gathered and wrote
the proposal adopted on Tuesday by the directors.

Mr. Kight, a graduate of the University of Michigan with degrees in sociology and social work, as well as Seminary
training, has had job offers from Annapolis and Indianapolis. Dr. Charles Huchet, head of special services for the Princeton public schools, says
he encouraged people in the community to keep him here,
but he doesn't see how the schools could assume the town's responsibility.

If Princeton keeps Bill Kight,
his main responsibility, the Rev. Mr. Andrews speculates, could be hooking out that kind of continuity and success there could be in youth work.

In the meantime, he is due back here next Wednesday to stay at the home of Ralph Bloom. There's a Jaycee's Award as man of the year in the offering for him.

"In These Times of Trial and Error..."

WHEREAS,

● It has come to the attention of the Rotary Club of Princeton that for one reason or another Bill Kight — known in this town for the past four and one-half years as a worker among its youth — is about to leave Princeton;

● there seem to be strong opinions pro and con in the community concerning the worthwhileness of his work and/or the ability of other agencies to substitute for it;

● it is felt that, in these times of trial and error in our attempts to meet the severe problems of drugs and juvenile delinquency in our community, no force for good with any record of accomplishment should be allowed to cease operations or to leave the community;

● we understand that the Princeton Presbyterian Commission has under consideration the issuance of a call to Bill Kight as a Presbyterian minister assigned to continue, under its supervision, his work of the past four and one-half years with Princeton youth;

● his ability to fund the salary and expense of such a worker outside and in addition to their normal budgets for the calendar year 1970 may have to be the deciding factor in this undertaking;

Therefore, Be it resolved that:

The Rotary Club of Princeton encourages the Princeton Presbyterian Commission to continue its consideration of the undertaking, on its merit as a force for good in the community, with the assurance that should the Princeton Presbyterian Commission decide to issue its call to Bill Kight, for the above mentioned assignment, the Rotary Club of Princeton will assist in bringing the matter to the attention of all those individuals and organizations who would be anxious for Bill Kight's work to continue uninterrupted, for the purpose of permitting these individuals and organizations to make their maximum financial contribution to the undertaking;

And, Be it further resolved that:

On the basis of a budget yet to be established but not to exceed $12,000 for the twelve months beginning March 1, 1970, the Rotary Club of Princeton will supply the amount not contributed by others.

— Resolution passed unanimously
February 10, 1970

The interest of organizations and individuals in this project will be welcomed. Contributions, payable to the First Presbyterian Church (for purposes of tax deductibility), should be mailed to Fred M. Blocher, P. O. Box 431, Princeton.

is professor of English at Trenton State College and served as consultant to the English department at Princeton High in 1961.

He told the board he has made regular visits to the high school, going back to his consultant years and had often found "almost an atmosphere of hysteria."

"Things have calmed down, there is improvement in civility and student morale, and I urge you to consider Miss Burke as principal."

Petitions have been circulating for Miss Burke who has not, herself, agreed for the job. Dr. Ward emphasized that he had not conferred with her about his recommendation.

Dr. John Merkes, board president, told Dr. Ward the board would have to consider the principalship very soon.

SHOE STORE ROBBERED
Brophy's Shoe Yields $1200.
About $1200 was taken from a safe and an estimated $10 from a cash register Saturday at Brophy's Shoe Store, 5 Palmer Square.

Borough police were called to the scene at 6:45 p.m. by a Princeton resident driving by who reported seeing a strange man coming out of the closed store. Sergeant Ralph Procaccino and Patrolmen James Bloom, David Ashton and Victor Pasanella searched the neighborhood, after finding the front door locked.

They notified the owner, Thomas Brophy of 14 Alkwood Drive, Lawrence Township, who checked the store and reported the loss. There was no sign of forced entry. Police said that the safe had apparently been left unlocked. The store had been closed and locked at 5:30 that evening.

The same evening at 5:30, someone emptied a cash register in the front of the Nassau Delicatessen, One Palmer Square, while the occupants were working in the rear of the store.

The manager, Fred Lehnert told Pd. Blocher that he didn't know how much money was in the register at the time.

Police also received a report the same day of the theft of $170 from a pocketbook in Room 205 at Monnick, the nursing home operated by Princeton Hospital. Police identified the owner as Mrs. Eleanor Weiss, 21 Harris Road.

TOPICS Of The Town

BUDGETS

It's That Time. Both Princeton's budgets hit the $2 million mark this year for the first time: $2,078,426 in the Borough (up $268,780) and $2,170,866 in the Township (up $228,980).

Borough: The amount to be raised by taxes is $791,806, up $119,065 from last year. The total tax rate is up 38c to $7.12, of that 38c increase, 24c is local taxes, 10c is Mercer County taxes and 4c is school taxes. The 6c veterans senior citizens exemption is unchanged.

For the owner of a Borough house valued at $30,000, the increase will be $57, from $1,011 to $1,068.

Public hearing on the Borough's budget will be held Tuesday, March 10, in Borough Hall on Council's regular meeting day.

Township: The amount to be raised by taxes is $882,670, which is 11.25% more than last year. The Township's total tax rate is $7.03 — up 52c from 1969. It breaks down like this: 35c more for the schools, for $4.14; 6c more for local government for 95c and 6c more for Mercer County for $1.88. The 5c veterans exemptions is unchanged.

The owner of a Township house valued at $30,000 will pay $1,051, up $78 from 1970.

Inflated House. Incidentally, when the Township figures were announced Monday, at Committee's special meeting

A LOT OF SMOKE and a lot of mystery surrounding its origin followed the fire which emptied Princeton High School Thursday and forced cancellation of Adult School classes that night. Story on page 11.

to introduce the budget. Administrator Joseph R. Nini used a $45,000 house as an illustration.

When asked what happened to the familiar $30,000 house (already inflated to $10,000 in school budget explanations), Mr. Nini shrugged and said the average assessed valuation of a Township house is now $46,000.

Both mayors, Robert W. Caskey for the Borough and John D. Wallace for the Township, pointed out that the school situation is still "unnatural."

The waves still haven't subsided from the monumental boat-rocking that occurred three years ago when some body discovered the Township had been billed for some school children who lived in the Borough.

The Township got credit for the error last year. That means that the school year this year is abnormally high because it started from an abnormal low last year.

From now on, however, it will level out.

BOROUGH
As Mayor Caskey warned last week, the Borough is using 1970 as a "catchup" year, chiefly for street repair. Due for attention are:

University Place, from College Road to Alexander, but not the full width; in fact, not all the way to either curb, at a cost of $12,000.

Cleveland Lane, deferred from '69, from Elm to Lafayette at a cost of $25,300, of which the state will pay $16,000.

Moore Street from Park Place to Franklin, $10,500.

All of Maran Avenue, and resurfacing only on Stanley, Erdman, Fisher, Tee-Ar, Hornor and the rest of Cleveland. This body discovered the Township will cost $8,400 and the state will put up 90%.

Steps leading up to the Nassau Inn and Post Office from Palmer Square West and East, and the "T"-shaped sidewalk area between them and in front of the Nassau Inn and Post Office, all Borough owned, will be repaired.

Included in the budget is a 6 1/2% salary increase for Borough employees.

Consolidation?

Borough Councilman Robert Hendry looked at the new tax figures and found, after doing his arithmetic, that Borough and Township are now only $11 apart. Last year, they were about $35. "It's so near!" he remarked. Borough Council Tuesday night. "I really feel it is necessary this year to try to do something about consolidation. Perhaps some legislation could be worked out."

The 1970 total Borough tax figure of $7.12 is only 8c higher than the Township's $7.03. Last year, the Borough's was 23c higher. That 8c difference, multiplied by the Borough's new $1.63 local tax rate, creates the gap of $14.67.

ough employees, 100% payment of hospitalization for employees, this year's $11,000 in stilling on the new fire truck and a new loader for the dump.

To help support this, the Borough picked up $355,000 in rateables this year, chiefly from the new nursing home on Quarry Street.

The Borough also includes $10,000 toward the Child Fund — Continued on Next Page

For exercise,
It's hard to beat.

Now if it had been colder, you could have gone down Nassau Street on snowshoes. Nearly two inches of rain fell Tuesday, and that would have been nearly two feet of snow.

Precipitation in quantity is over for a while, the Man reports. The thermometer will drop after his excursion into the high 40s, and the winds will blow, providing seasonally cold temperatures under generally fair skies.

TOWNSHIP

Almost half of The Town's 1968 budget increase of $17,000 is attributable to the sewer incinerator situation, pointed out Commissioner Allan Chase.

Sewer costs are on $26,101 and incinerator costs on $17,122 (of this amount, $17,000 is actually new this year. It is the Township's share in the Montgomery Township Rocky Hill sewer.

Also as projected, Township grows its share of the plant sewer operation grows, too.

Incinerator increase is due to incinerator's move to corner lot by ash and air pollution problems, new equipment for the dump and, again, greater use of the incinerator by the growing municipality.

Salary increases account for $30,231. This includes one more police officer, a police clerk, another man in public works and a continuation of the 1968 summer youth program ($6,000).

Building alterations and new equipment for police aren't included in this budget. They will be in a capital ordinance scheduled for introduction in late future.

Both Township and Borough have a new police salary scale. A new patrolman in either municipality will now start at $8,100 instead of $8,000 as before.

Sergeant's pay has gone from $10,175 to $11,375, lieutenants' from $11,750 to $12,450 and the chiefs' from $13,150 to $14,400.

Extra duty pay for juvenile officers and so on, is now $300 instead of $170 for the first year, with an additional $200 in succeeding years.

In the Township, the police residency requirement has been changed. An officer may now live ten miles from headquarters, regardless of the county. Previously, he could live eight miles if his home was within Mercer County and five miles if he lived outside the county.

The Township joins the Borough with $10,000 for Child Guidance. Both municipalities will contribute about $1,500 each so the Princeton Day Care Center can run a full 12 months. The Township also has a new $1,500 Visiting Nurse Service.

THEY SHALL NOT PASS!

Hello, Penn Central. "It's a take-away! Not only of our name but of our charisma!" said Borough Councilman Charles Cornforth.

"We've been sold down Stone Brook," stated Councilman Robert Hendry.

Council voted unanimously Tuesday night (only four of the six being present) to authorize attorney Gordon Griffin to use whatever legal means he can find — perhaps an injunction — to keep Penn Central from rechristening Princeton's railroad station this Sunday.

Penn Central spokesmen, of whom there seem to be dozens, have been saying that no firm decision has been made on changing "Princeton" to "Princeton University" and "Princeton Junction" to "Princeton."

But in Newark last Friday, Mr. Cornforth discovered that, February 15, this Sunday is to be the day. Bundles of tickets (he saw the bundles, but not individual tickets) with the name changes are already here in Princeton, he reported.

Write! Officials of the Public Utilities Commission in Newark told Mr. Cornforth they think P.U.C. has jurisdiction over complaints. People who would like to protest the name, and thus include individuals, should write to David A. Waters of the P.U.C., 100 Commerce Street, Newark 26.

These complaints will be forwarded, Mr. Cornforth continued, to Howard C. Kobusz, Penn Central's vice president in charge of passenger operations.

Council itself intends in short cut this route: Mayor Robert W. Caserio will telephone Mr. Kobusz immediately. He will also confer immediately with L. L. Vivian of Princeton University to enlist the University's support — or so Council hopes — in dissuading Penn Central.

One Penn Central spokesman, James W. Dillenderfer, has already come to Princeton and is about to be invited again. He says there is still room to negotiate, but Mayor and Council suspect darkly that Penn Central isn't informing him.

Incidentally, Mr. Dillenderfer admitted to Administrator Robert Mooney that he didn't know there was a Princeton Township, and wasn't aware that there was a Princeton Junction post office.

In any case, he knows now. Last week, Township Committee sent Penn Central a letter. Borough Council Tuesday night registered its unanimous "unalterable opposition" and directed Mr. Mooney to write Penn Central in this effect and send copies to the P.U.C.

Water Up? Another public utility came in for some comment. The Princeton Water Company seeks a 10% rate increase, effective May 1 if the P.U.C. gives approval (See "Topics of the Town.")

A spokesman for the company will be asked to visit Council and make some explanation in advance of the public hearing.

Mr. Mooney said the hydrant rate for the Borough would go up from $60 to $84. Ironically, he said, this means the Borough's franchise and gross receipts revenues will go up so that the water-drinking tax

News Of The THEATRES

"DEAR MR. LITHGOW . . ."
Young Friends Write. "I can hardly wait to see your next play."

Did ever an actor, director,
producer, playwright or theatre
manager hear such equestrian
words?

They were written to Arthur Lithgow, executive director of McCarter Theatre, as a thank you note from an enthusiastic young lady age 11, who had sat breathlessly watching the dress rehearsal of "Shaw's"
"Pygmalion".

With about a hundred of her peers in Princeton's Middle School, she's been attending dress rehearsals of the McCarter repertory company and getting to know — at least from across the footlights — the different actors and the differing roles they play.

Volunteer Audience. This project is quite apart from McCarter's mammoth operation in which thousands of high school students are bused to the theatre from various parts of the state.

Middle School youngsters in sixth, seventh, eighth, grade
are strictly Princeton and strictly volunteer. They come to the rehearsals after school on Fridays. They don't have to come if they don't want to,
but do they want to?

Regulars like to see what part a favorite actor is playing this time. In one note to Mr. Lithgow, a theatre buff wrote "It was fun seeing the same actors that played in Pygmalion play in *"Much Ado
About Nothing"*."

To McCarter's pleased surprise, a lot of youngsters in these audiences are boys. Surprise, because who would ever expect a 13 year old boy to be interested in "Much Ado About Nothing"?

"Great!" The students have seen "Much Ado," "Al, Wilderness," and "Of Mice and Men" in addition to the Shaw.

Very soon now they'll watch
the dress rehearsal of Con-greve's "Way of the World."

"Much Ado About Nothing"
was excellent," stated a pre-teen fan firmly. "It was so exciting and the costumes were beautiful. Everything was great. I wish I could see it again. I could understand what was happening."

"When I looked at "Much Ado About Nothing" in the book, I thought it would be terrible but it wasn't," wrote a surprised theatre goer to Mr.
Lithgow. "It was very good."

A young man enjoyed the play and understood it so well
that he didn't believe the words were really Shakespeare's.

"Much Ado About Nothing"
was good especially the way
the words were changed from Old English to regular. . . The part in the church was awfully funny and well acted."

If it's praise that Shakespeare doesn't sound like Shakespeare, so be it.

McCarter's schedule is so tight that youngsters have no
chance to chat with actors after dress rehearsal. But there is some hope that actors and young audience can sit down
together soon for a real heart-to-heart exchange. After all . . .

"I thought "Pygmalion" was really good. If all your plays are like that, you have a pretty good deal."

LA MAMA COMING

Sam Shepard's "Melodrama

the director of "Hair" will be

The film tells the story of a group of Jewish intellectuals who travel by Volkswagen to Brooklyn to attend a friend's funeral. They get lost and wind up attending the wrong funeral. Meanwhile, they encounter Godfrey Cambridge as a Negro-Jewish cab driver; Alan King as a comic rabbi; George Segal in something called a "character" role and Jack Warden.

Garden, Prince, Lincoln

Easy Rider (now playing) is a frightening view of America
as seen through youthful eyes
and brilliant camerawork.
Dennis Hopper and Peter Fonda produced, directed and wrote (with Terry Southern)
the film, and play the leading roles. As two young, long-haired motorcycleists, they hand over a wad of bills to a Mexican, get a supply of dope,
take time out to smoke marijuana, at an airport in the States, turn the staff over to another character, who pays
them off.

Fonda puts the money in a tube, hides it in the stars and struts decorated with the motorcycle, puts on his black leather jacket with the flag on the back, and the two young men, now free of financial worries, set out across the country to see the Mardi Gras.

So the film begins, as they journey, they meet up with prejudice, fear, a hippie commune, jail, and introduce an American Civil Liberties worker to marijuana. Attacked by vigilantes, they escape and find refuge in a New Orleans
brothel, where they have a
"bad trip" on LSD. The ending is nearly anticlimactic.

The cyclists are not com-pats, but a couple of withdrawn, alienated, somehow pathetic, sometimes poetic and often humorous products of a society that finally eliminates them. The film catches the mystique of the motorcycle and the beauty of the countryside.
The music — a dozen rock and folk songs — intensifies the mood of pathos and impending tragedy. Performance are so uniformly good as to seem a kind of documentary
record, in a one-sided but effective statement.

PLAYHOUSE AND TRENT

Topaz (now playing) Here's Alfred Hitchcock again with material to his liking: the intrigues of international spies
set against a background of actual events. The realism is based on the efforts of United States and French agents to secure data on the installation of Russian missiles in Cuba in 1962, and subsequent charges of infiltration of French intelligence at the highest level by Communist spies.

Hitchcock, of course, is not interested in quasi-documentary; he is out to place the evidence in a state of suspense and keep it there by piling up cliff upon thrill. The cat-and-mouse game as suspicious Communist spies trail
their deftly comrade is expertly handled. The international cast has no "names,"
but it was shrewdly selected.

IT'S NEW To Us

SUMMER IN EUROPE
— Student Style. Some parents reward their children with bits of "things." Others set the stage for a new and unforgettable experience that broadens their world, their perspectives. If your child has earned a major gift this year, then you will want to consider "Summer in Europe—Student Style," a five-year old enterprise based in Britain that is being introduced in Princeton this year.

It's a summer planned with extra effort, as you will find in talking with Mrs. Patricia Hume, a Londoner who has lived here for the past several years. "I like best," she says, "to spend an hour and a half with a parent who wants to know all the ins and outs of the trip."

"Summer in Europe—Student Style" is a coed program for students age 14 to 21. (They are subdivided into comparable age brackets.) The trip begins with a three-week "homestay" with an English family.

"It's rather nice to have this

IT'S AN EXPERIENCE to be away from home for eight weeks — and for many of the first time, so we make a particular effort to acquaint the parents and students with all the details which is what I would want if I were sending my two on an unknown tour," Mrs. Patricia Hume of Summer in Europe tells of the 1970 plans in "It's New to Us," experience, especially for the younger ones. Mrs. Hume comments in a way, they all readily know each other. Letters have gone back and forth between parents and parents, child and home — one of whom became known as "Mother No. 2" to a youngster who stayed with her.

The student is immediately enveloped into the family's activities, the social life, the household routine, he's taken to see places of interest, and best of all, the family he stays with has been chosen as one that shares his interests in horseback riding, tennis, music — whatever.

One likes to share that at times, "Mrs. Hume says in her understanding way. "Many of the families are still writing to each other."
The fourth week is spent at an English public school, the Grosvenor School at Hindhead in Surrey. Here the students are given an inside look at the historical background of Britain, with particular reference to the English legal system and government. With three Members of Parliament on the governing board of "Summer in Europe," the visit to Parliament is a lively one. (The over-seeing general, a rear admiral, a viscount, lawyers, economists and educators.

There are tutorials, lectures and private study. The students visit the town hall of a typically English town and a court of law and there are tours to historical spots. The day's activities end at 7 when dinner is served, and free evenings begin. The tour leaders arrange optional recreation.

Then the group heads for the continent, spending three weeks visiting Brussels, Cologne, Heidelberg, Innsbruck, Rome, Venice, Como, Milan, Montreux, and Paris. "We stay in really good type hotels," Mrs. Hume reports. "The students are very well fed, and they have fun. They are always well chaperoned, but it's set up so that they enjoy themselves."

The final week is spent back in England, based at the Grosvenor School, where the "learning by living" theme of the tour moves into the arts and literature phase. They take the theatre in London and to the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratford on Avon; on a private tour of the Eden Colne, to Windsor Castle, Balmorale, Hampton Court, the Gallery. And there's time for shopping on Carnaby Street.

On the last day, with suitable festivities, there are awards given: The Supreme Award, to the student who has demonstrated most effectively his all-around ability in "Learn by Living;" "The European Award," to the student who has contributed most to the ideas and ideals of the tour; "The tutor's Nomination, an award at the sole discretion of the Senior Tutors and others.

Mrs. Hume, whose husband, C. Robert Hume is in charge of project management at RCA Astro, is the mother of two children in the age group of the students the tour has in mind: a son, Rory, 19 and a daughter, Anastasia (Stacy), 17, both of whom are now in school in England. She was very much involved with youth clubs in England not too long ago, and has been associated with Summer in Europe for several years. She will be going along on the tour this summer. You can reach her at 452-9175.

The cost of the tour is $1425 for 56 days, payable at once — Continued on Next Page

AT KALEN's the discerning eye and taste behind the objects d'art and oils by modern artists belongs to Mrs. Estelle Kalen, who hopes that women will never consent to the AID forecast of "package rooms." See it's New To Us.

was as long as it's all in by the time the youngsters leave on July 6. Accident and medical care is provided, as well as all the usual costs except pocket money. References will be happily supplied by the families whose children have gone on the tour.

BROWSING AROUND

At Kalen's, we always find surprises at Kalen's on Palmer Square. It is probably the range of prices from $5 for Delft tiles painted in a new, clear style to way on there for oil paintings by Jack Lawrence Miller and Lloveras and Bouvier de Caehard in the downstairs "Gallery on the Square." Someone new at Kalen's is the painter Don Hornberger who has had about as checked a career as you can imagine. Born in 1921, he studied music at the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore, mathematics at the University of Cardiff, worked as a mathematician-physicist for 20 years, and four years ago, began teaching himself how to paint. He sold 28 paintings in three days at a Wilmington exhibit and he is now collected by many private individuals, including artist Andrea Wyeth.

The Don Hornberger paintings at Kalen's have found a response here in Princeton. Mrs. Estelle Kalen, told us the other day. He worked in oils, then tempera and now it is acrylics — the most interesting browns and grays and sleek sweeps of snow in a country de painting that has the hovering quality of a winter day to it. "We've sold almost 30 of his paintings in the past month," she says. "One man bought three!"

The put-pour of offerings at Kalen's is really designed for the woman who wants to give her home an individual touch. Mrs. Kalen will tell you in horror of the prospect she heard from the American Interior Decorators. "The AID forecasts that people will furnish their houses by choosing Fuchs A in blue for this living room, B for another room."

She continues, "I think good accessories are hard to find. There's really no place in town where people can get the little touches that make the difference in a house. My courses are better than average, having a background in this. And I want people to have an opportunity to express their mood and personality."

We noticed an assortment of condiment dishes, some in sterling, some glass and silver. In particular, a beautiful fiddled shell in silver oxide with a tiny knife and glass lining inside ($5.95); a three-foot wrought iron ladder for your fireplace scene ($13.75), with companion pieces of spoon and fork; all Williamsburg reproductions; beautifully turned brass and iron candlesticks from Williamsburg; mirrors in antique frames of fruitwood oval about $63.30 was $39; and charming music boxes by Thoren, with carved Hummel figures on the revolving lids ($15 up), as well as musical jewel boxes with familiar paintings by Degas, Reynolds and Gainsborough on the silk tops (about $12.50).

Kalen's has for the art collector limited editions of prints by Dali, Utrillo, and others, and, down in the Gallery on the Square, some fascinating oils. There are the playful, child-like paintings by Mounie; the dramatic "Piazza San Marco" by Bouvier de Caehard; three paintings by Jack Lawrence Miller, an Englishman whose "Fallen Goddess," a painting of the fallen statue of Isis among the ruins and rocks of Delos, is a very warm, beautiful picture for all its desolate theme. We also found here his "Springtime Racing" which is typical of his exciting horse paintings. When you see the Lloveras, a cityscape about five feet long, you will be intrigued to know that a Rothschild has recently paid $3000 for one of his paintings.

Also in the Gallery on the Square at Kalen's are a series of paintings for those who love the beach and the sea by Elizabeth Ruggles and Herbert Foerster, Elizabeth Freyberg, and many more.

payers will actually get a drop of relief.

In other action, Council passed the resolution asking the Youth Concerns Committee to make a drug study. Township Committee had already acted. Councilman Alice Male reported that the refurbished Youth Center will be open Monday.

Council expressed appreciation to the University for the use of Jadin Gym for teens on Wednesday afternoons and Saturday mornings.

Mrs. Male told Council that response was so great (350 youngsters the first day) that Dillon Gym also has been opened to be used by the young boys and girls.

"If there are other things the town wants from the University, they want us to let them know," Mrs. Male reported.

"WE'RE STILL MOVING"

In PHS Fire Investigation, Lt. Michael Carnevale reported Tuesday that Borough police "were still in the process of their investigation of a fire in a storage room at Princeton High School Thursday afternoon which forced the evacuation of some 1,700 students.

The investigation is being continued by Detective Thomas Procaccini, the Borough's juvenile officer, Princeton fire chief William Hussey and Lt. Carnevale. Police have determined the origin of the fire as "of suspicious nature."

"We're trying to determine a number of things; we haven't completely eliminated all the other possibilities," Lt.

Sales Tax Benefits

Princeton will benefit from the 2% rise in the state sales tax, due to go into effect March 1.

Under the old 3% sales tax, Princeton Borough got $47,000 last year and expects $49,000 this year — about 10 tax points. The Township received $41,000 and expects $43,000 — about three and one-half points in that municipality. Money is used to reduce the local tax rate.

The new 5% levy will presumably bring in more to the municipal kitty, but no body knows yet exactly how much.

Carnevale stated. He said the police have determined the door to the room was not locked at the time of the fire.

"Right now," he continued, "we are trying to ascertain what kind of cleaning materials were in that room to determine whether this was a combustible type fire or not. Two jackets, one burned, belonging to school custodians, were found in the room. They have been sent to the state police lab where they will be analyzed for traces of an inflammable liquid."

Smoke Damage Heavy. A spokesman for the firm which carries the school's insurance reported that damage from the fire "was minimal." Probably three to four thousand dollars. Smoke damage, however, he said would probably amount to five or six times that amount.

A general alarm was sounded at 2:07 Thursday. The fire started in a room above the school cafeteria where two huge bales of foam rubber used to cushion the fall of pole vaulters and high jumpers during the track season were stored. The smoldering rubber soon black smoke up a stairwell, into air vents and hampered the efforts of the volunteer firemen.

The only reported injury was a cut finger sustained by Frank Procaccini of 149 Hodge Road who was treated at Princeton Hospital.

Assistant principal Alfred Seitz used a bull horn to tell onlooking students that all remaining classes had been cancelled and to go home. Many however, preferred to remain and watch the firemen who battled the smoke for more than an hour.

Students were back in the classroom the next morning.

ADULT SCHOOL EXTENDED
Because of PHS fire. Because of last Thursday's fire at Princeton High School, which forced cancellation of Adult School classes for the night, the school's winter term has been extended one week until Thursday, April 9.

This Thursday's lecture in the 19th Century American Art Series will have Jay Cantor, from the staff of the Metropolitan Museum in New York, as guest lecturer. His subject will be "The Development of a Professional Attitude Toward The Arts: The First Museums and Art Schools."

The 9 p.m. lecture on "Environment: Can Man Survive?" will have Brig. Gen. William Whipple, director of the Rutgers Water Resources Research Institute, as speaker. He will discuss "Water Pollution and Its Control," with accompanying slides.

WOMAN IS ASSAULTED

In Shopping Center lot, Township police are pressing their search for a man who assaulted a 20-year-old woman last week in the parking lot at Bamberger's in the Princeton Shopping Center. They declined to reveal her name.

The victim was treated at Princeton Hospital for head contusions. X rays revealed no internal injuries. She told police that she had

WANTED FOR ASSAULT: Township police are looking for a man of this appearance who assaulted a woman in a parking lot adjacent to Bamberger's. His likeness has been drawn by Phil David Potts from information supplied by the victim.

Just finished shopping at the store and was bending down to unlock her car when a man came up behind her, grabbed her arm and said, "Wait a minute!" As she turned around to look at him, she said he struck her several times in the face and on the back of the head.

She told police she had never seen her attacker before nor had she noticed him in the store. She described him as a Puerto Rican, 5'5" to 5'8", 20 to 25 years old, medium build with a black mustache, long sideburns and black curly hair. An upper tooth was possibly missing.

He was wearing a dark navy blue jacket and dark trousers. He fled in a dark green Volkswagen.

Detective Norman Servis has asked that anyone who has any information about the suspect or who may have seen him—the assault took place February 3 at 5:46 p.m. — to call Township police at 921-2000. Citizens can remain anonymous if they prefer, he added.

Timber Bill Opposed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
A relatively unpublished bill
now awaiting action by Congress
should be brought to the attention of all citizens interested in a balanced and healthy environment. The bill, formally called the National Tannery Supply Act, euphemistically renamed the National Forest Conservation and Management Act, S. 1832 and H.R.
1265, is a complicated bill,
but I will try to highlight its origin, contents and potential effects.

"Taking advantage of a temporary shortage that sent lumber prices soaring last spring, the lumber companies are trying to get permission to log the nation's forests. . . .
This bill would let them speed
up the present rate of cutting,
which is geared to tree regrowth and replacement, and would give them the right to cut timber in all national forest land now set aside for recreation (i.e., 27 million
out of a total of 186 million acres)." Louisville Courier
Journal, 11/4/69

"The timber shortage scare
is unconvincing and the proposed solutions are equally silly. . . . the dislocation in home building is not primarily caused by lumber prices,
but by tight credit. . . . With lumber company profits at recording levels, the industry is suffering no hardship.
Since Federal agencies already possess administrative discretion to cut more timber . . .
in particular instances, no
Market legislation by Congress is necessary." New York Times, 5/13/69

"The House and Senate . . . should ask some searching questions. Such as: is there really a timber shortage, when 1 billion board feet have been exported in 1967? And will . . . this extensive timber cutting damage valuable waterways, and harm much national wildlife, and hurt recreational possibilities? . . . And finally, will . . . the intensive clearing (as the result of "intensive farming" techniques promised by the bill) applied
to fragile forests, invite insect attacks, increase resort to insecticides, leach fertilizers
into pure mountain streams,
and cause erosion?"
Cherry Valley Road

It seems to be a case of the almighty dollar
against human values, of short-
range gain against irreversible
long range damage. I hope and trust that many Princetonians will write Senators Case and Williams and Representative Thompson, urging defeat of this potentially disastrous and unnecessary bill.

Demolish Drumbacket?

To the Editor of Town Topics:
While everyone is on the subject of preserving the Princeton Battlefield, I wish to point to the ultimate importance of the Olden Cottage from which the only eye-witness account of civilians has come.

The Olden family witnessed the battle from their cellar —
just how has not been made clear. The cottage was re-sited about 300 feet at the time
Moses Taylor, Pine built Drumbacket. It now overlooks Route 202, rather than the Battlefield, and from its cellar one can see little nor hear much except the rumble
of State highway traffic.

In order to get the full flavor of the Battle, one must be able to see the field
from the cellar of the Olden Cottage. To do this, the State which purchased "Drumbacket"
and the Cottage for a required quarter of a million dollars need only return the cottage to its original location.

In order to return the cottage
to its original location, it probably will be necessary to demolish "Drumbacket" since the mansion is in ill repair
and will require quite a sizeable expenditure to make it fit
for "The Governor's" Mansion,
this might, indeed, be a good idea.

Such a view of the Battlefield might point up yet another concept; the actual battle
extended northward rather than southward from the present
foam of Battlefield State Park. There are those who would place combat close to the "Friends' Meetinghouse" (which was used as a hospital
by both sides and was obviously not in the center of the conflict) merely because Revolutionary round cannon balls
tended to roll down hill, after their trajectory was spent, and a former owner of the land thereabouts dug up a few cannon balls.

Let not the State and Federal agencies, which donate taxpayer dollars to these purposes, be led astray. The State already owns the rest of the Battlefield. All they have to do is demolish "Drumbacket," return Olden Cottage to its original site, and they've got the picture!

Bus Rider Dissatisfied.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I include here my addition to the growing number of complaints concerning local transportation.

On Thursday, February 5, I was returning on the Suburban Transit bus from New York
that was scheduled to arrive
at Palmer Square at 6:45 p.m.,
and at the Shopping Center at 6:50 p.m.

However, instead of continuing on to the Shopping Center,
the driver asked all passengers
to depart at Palmer Square, causing inconvenience to at least myself. As I was leaving the bus, the reason for the driver's behavior became more evident to me as I heard him
talking to a girl who was just getting off, asking her if she was going to ride on his route
again, and if she would consent to go out with him.

I truly feel that the Suburban Transit bus driver should be more conscientious than he is now, and that they should at least follow the printed schedule. And I hope that there will be some changes initiated in the near future.

Thanks for Voter Support.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
May I take this opportunity to thank the voters of Princeton Township who supported
my candidacy in the recent School Board election.

As indicated during my campaign, I intend to approach
each issue with an open mind
and base my decisions on a careful analysis of the needs
of the Princeton School Community. I will also make every effort to keep Princeton residents informed of School Board activities and hope they, in turn, will let me know of their concerns.

I shall always do my very best to merit the confidence
you have placed in me.

MARKS RE-ELECTED
 As Board Head, John Marks was re-elected president of the Princeton Regional School Board at the special Organization meeting Monday night and William Marvel was re-elected vice-president. Their 6:30 victory seems to indicate that the new board will have almost the same mix-up as the old.

Ballooning was secret. William Evans, board secretary, who presided until the election of new president, said he decided on a secret ballot so that board members wouldn't be embarrassed by voting publicly against one another.

Mr. Marks and Mr. Marvel were nominated together by board member William Z. Abrams in what Dr. Adams called "a package."

His nomination was seconded by Mrs. Evelyn Geddes, newly-elected board member.

Then Mrs. Kathleen Edwards nominated Winthrop Pike to the presidency and new board member Philip Cruickshank quickly seconded her nomination. Mr. Cruickshank then nominated Mrs. Edwards to be vice-president and Mr. Pike seconded.

The assumption is that the three secret votes against Messrs. Marks and Marvel were cast by Mrs. Edwards, Mr. Pike and Mr. Cruickshank. During 1969, Mrs. Edwards and Mr. Pike voted on the same side more than once, frequently joined by Dr. Harvey Rothberg, who is no longer on the board. In the 1970 alignment, Mr. Cruickshank seems to have taken Dr. Rothberg's role, at least for this first round of voting.

The board, its four new members duly sworn in, unanimously ratified the salary agreement with the school secretaries' association. The agreement covers 48 employees.

"Why are the salary guides so low?" demanded Mrs. Edwards. She cited $3,950 in the switchboard operator-clerk

Art: Festival Planned
 Inspired by the success of the Fence Paint in last year, which was co-sponsored with the Undergraduate Assembly of the University, the Arts Council of Princeton is planning a Spring Festival of the Arts from mid-April through May.

All organizations in the visual and performing arts, galleries and theatres are scheduled to participate in the events during that time. A brochure covering the Festival will be published for distribution and those planning exhibits or events should contact Mrs. Neal O'Connor at 921 9159 or Mrs. Charles Jaffin at 924-2827 before March 15 in order to be included in the brochure's listing.

category and compared it to the Federal salary of $4,600 at the same level.

In the schools' step-12 for administrative secretaries, she pointed to $7,400 annual pay compared to the Federal figure of $8,600 for that level.

Dr. Philip McPherson replied that he regarded the scale as "competitive," and said the New Jersey Education Association apparently thinks it is, too.

In a later statement, Mr. Evans said the secretaries' scale represented an increase of 8.3%, which spurts to 11.1% when fringe benefits are considered.

He pointed to the new 100% health coverage as one of these benefits. Previously, the school system only paid 50% of medical expenses. The present policy covers Blue Cross, Blue Shield, Major Medical and "Rider J."

"Policies Revised? As part of its routine organization business, the board re-adopted the policies and procedures approved by previous boards, and now in effect throughout the school system."

"These policies haven't been examined in over two years," Mr. Pike observed, "and we ought to look at them again."

Dr. McPherson said the school staff had already done homework on revising these policies, and were ready to help whenever the board decided to go to work.

Two members of the small audience raised bookkeeping questions. Mrs. J. Stuart Hunter, defeated Borough candidate for the board, and Dr. Elwood Godfrey (a colleague of new board member Henry Powsner) asked about disposition of the board's surplus.

When Dr. Godfrey questioned it, its size, Mr. Pike defended it, citing such unexpected crises as the recent Princeton High School fire. Dr. Godfrey also questioned billing procedures for sending district tuition and Mr. Evans promised a detailed report.

"When," asked new board member Robert Bierman eagerly, "when can new board members bring up the ideas on which they ran for the board?"

Dr. Marks smiled, "We're about to go into executive session and you can begin then."

The Weller acreage, now the property of the Institute, lies between Battletield Park and Princeton Friends Meeting House. Both Colonial and British wounded are said to Speaking for the Institute was attorney Reeves Hicks, who said the property cost $100,000 and is now worth $12,000. Later in the evening, after Mr. Hicks had heard the Battle of Princeton played, he re-played, he leaped to his feet, flung off his jacket (with its sons of the American Revolution label) to symbolize his temporary disengagement from his Institute nationalism, from a splendid display of alleged historical accuracy, he asked about relevance.

"Aren't there better things to spend the state's money for?" What about the John Witherspoon area? What a beautiful landscape! The Battleground is already here, what's wrong with the present park?"

Highlights (after Mr. Hicks):

• The site of the Battle of Marathon is only five acres (from Homer Thompson, archaeologist who worked on the restoration of Athens).

• No actual fighting took place on the Weller tract, any war there took place in the minds of the people (Rugers historian).

• Public and private money to buy the Weller land may be forthcoming "in a very short time." (From Thomas P. Cook, attorney for the Township Open Space Committee).

• "Who doesn't the Institute build on some of its other acres?" It owns about 400 acres (from Robert L. Clifford).

• The Institute is not a religious group, it is a secular organization (from John J. Traver, state director of the division of parks, forests and recreation, to encourage the Institute's mission to be a question and answer session).

The hearing turned up some very strange bed fellows. In the audience, people of different rights, peace or conservation, found themselves agreeing earnestly with members of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Peace loving Quakers found themselves united with the state militia in their bloody battlefield. The Institute, which has always attracted Protestants in terms of its world-wide interest to its birds without hindrance.

TRENTON PAIR ARRESTED
For Weekend Theft, A 20-year-old youth and a 17-year-old juvenile, both Trenton residents, were arrested early Sunday morning by Borough police in connection with week-end thefts of a 1975 Ford coupe and a 1975 Ford coupe on the campus.

Henry T. Page has been charged with the theft of a 1975 Ford coupe and a 1975 Ford coupe on the campus. Page was released in $50 bail to await a hearing in court before Borough Judge Theodore T. Tama Jr. on Monday.

They were charged in their car on Washington Road at 7:30 a.m. by Sgt. Robert Anderson, who first saw a bottle of beer in the car. The car was found in the back seat, police said, were two men, one of whom was in the driver's seat, a car used in an electrical repair. $1000 Coat Stolen, A $1000 for coat, which Borough police found in the back seat of a car, was stolen from the coat room at Cottage Club. The owner was identified by the car as Mrs. Christine Gosham, a student at Vassar College.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED
In Trenton Accident, Mrs. Betty Phipps, 300 Hamilton Ave., had her 1960 car stolen January 8 from in front of the Grout's Restaurant on Witherspoon Street, which she owns with her husband.

Last Thursday, Trenton police called Borough police to report the car had been involved in an accident there. Although facilities plates had been removed from the car, the car's serial number and the driver's license were of the accident, police said.

FOUR ARE FINED
In Traffic Court, four Princeton residents were fined Monday in Borough traffic court. Judge Theodore T. Tama Jr. fined them $15 each.

Paying fines of $15 each, the four were: John J. Traver, 300 Hamilton Ave., $15; Peter F. Beck, 273 Dempsey Ave., no tail pipes, $15; Robert L. Clifford, 300 Hamilton Ave., $15; and John J. Traver, 300 Hamilton Ave., $15.

Christmas Was Cold But Our Hearts Were Warm

"You don't know me, but I'm a Marine in Vietnam. On Christmas Day, they received your most welcome package..."

"Thank you so very much for your thoughts of us here in Vietnam. Christmas could only be merry back home but knowing people share does brighten up the spirits of the men..."

"Christmas was cold and damp for me this year but all of our hearts were warmed to know that we weren't forgotten. Thank you again..."

"I am holed up on the DMZ (near the Gulf of Tonkin) as an advisor to a Vietnamese armored cavalry unit... It is the thoughtfulness and prayers of people like you that keep us in good spirits over here."

Last June, Princeton people gathered on Wednesdays to wrap and pack Christmas gifts for servicemen in Vietnam.

Called "Christmas in Vietnam," the project drew men, women and often servicemen's younger brothers and sisters to handle what eventually amounted to 30,756 individually wrapped gifts. An average of 20 came to the afternoon, dropping to 10 in 15 in the evening, and the work went on until November 1, when the last of 25 cartons, each 3' square, was picked up by the Marines for en route shipment to the China Beach USO near DaNang.

Mrs. Richard Fowler of Trinity Church headed "Christmas in Vietnam" this year, succeeding Mrs. Sydne Stevens. The work was housed in First Presbyterian Church, and the volunteers were members of all faiths. They stuffed six or seven gaily wrapped small gifts—some contributed by Princeton merchants, others bought with donated funds—into each plastic bag, until by November 1 there were 4,002 gift bags ready for distribution to soldiers and marines within helicopter distance of DaNang.

In the past month, letters have come in from Vietnam, from privates, from young lieutenants, from a brigadier general.

"THANK YOU FOR THINKING OF US!" Here are some of the servicemen in Vietnam who opened gifts from Princeton on Christmas Day. Fifty-seven cartons containing 30,756 individually wrapped gifts were sent. For the letters received in reply, see "Topics of the Town."

A Marine for 14 years. From a gunnery sergeant: "First let me tell you a little about myself. I have been in the Marines for more than 14 years. This is my third time to Vietnam and I believe in the cause."

"To Those Who Made My Christmas A Little Brighter: I would like to thank all the people who had anything at all to do with your organization's sending packages to the Marines in the field. They even had another Marine dressed up as Santa Claus deliver the package by means of helicopter. I will try to send you some pictures of this memorable occasion!"

—Marines of Indinlee Co."

A Marine captain of a 110mm gun battery wrote: "I want to thank you for helping to cheer up Christmas... It was really gratifying to see how much support we got from the American people over the holidays."

"I am the C.O. of this battery and am married and have three children. It was my first Christmas in Vietnam and I hope our last. I feel that we have done a great thing for the free world in taking our stand here."

"I haven't seen anything here, but I have seen enough to know that we are really fighting a terrible force."

"We had a real nice Christmas over here. They threw some out to us and it was really great. Everybody was happy to receive their packages. Thank you very much and God Bless you."

A Marine private in Fox Company said, "Wanted to write and thank you for the gifts my buddies and I received through your expense. It helps to know that people back home have not and will not forget about us over here and are doing their best to make our tour more bearable."

"It's true that Christmas this year is unlike any I've had before, but I'm sure you're here this Christmas. We'll make next year's and those in the years to come mean that much more to me."

"I have just been in Nam for a little over three months now. Well, I just wanted to let you know your gifts were very much enjoyed and I hope you and yours had a very merry Christmas."

From another, "I am sorry I couldn't write and thank you any sooner. I want to say thank you on behalf of A Co. 3 Plt. 1st Mar. Div. It really made us feel good to know that somebody back home is thinking of us guys over here in Vietnam. Thank you very much and may God bless you."

"I haven't seen anything here, but I have seen enough to know that we are really fighting a terrible force."

"Thank you again for thinking of us. It means a great deal."

And from the Army brigadier general, Henry J. Muller Jr., a note to Mrs. Fowler "on behalf of the many young servicemen in this command who are working as advisors to the Vietnamese Army, I want to express our sincere appreciation for the clever and useful Christmas gifts which you so thoughtfully provided us through Mrs. Lucy Caldwell of the USO."

"Lucy and the USO have done a wonderful job here—and you may be assured that every American soldier and marine in this part of Vietnam was remembered at Christmas time..."

The question now in Princeton is "Will there be another 'Christmas in Vietnam' project?" Mrs. Fowler answers sagely, "There's going to be a need for it. Unfortunately."

Drug Problem Paced Increase in Crime Rate Here in 1969

"Crime is definitely on the increase. It's on the increase in the nation, so naturally some of it is going to rub off on us."

Borough Police Chief Peter J. McCrohan made this point as he released his year-end report for 1969. "During 1969," he added, "narcotics and drugs were undoubtedly the top crime problem in Princeton."

In 1969, 32 juveniles (under 18) were arrested and charged with a narcotics offense — more than three times the nine who were arrested in 1968. In addition, Chief McCrohan reported that there were many police investigations especially of juveniles involving drug misuse that did not result in formal charges.

Twenty-one adults were arrested for drug crimes in '69 as opposed to nine in '68. Another aspect of drug offenses brought to light was the switch from marijuana to heroin. In 1968, not a single juvenile was arrested for the use or possession of heroin; last year, nine were. The figures for adults were one in 1968 and eight in 1969.

Said Chief McCrohan in his report: "Today the nation is facing a phenomenal problem in the field of narcotics and dangerous drugs, especially among the youth of the country. No one is exempt. It is not a problem of any one segment in our society. It continues to grow in alarming proportions."

Juvenile Report. One hundred seventy-four juvenile cases were handled by the Borough police last year — 74 more than the year before. Of the 148 juveniles involved, 31 were charged with possession of narcotic drugs, 20 with possession of alcoholic beverages. Some of the other charges included runaways, 15; assaults, 13; robbery, 12; and intoxication, 11.

"I can't say we're accomplishing as much as we'd like to in the drug field," said Chief McCrohan. "We get them from all around. Princeton seems to be the hub. To my knowledge, there is no duplicate of anything like Nassau Street. They come from all over."

Chief McCrohan did praise, and lavishly, the Borough Juvenile Officer, Thomas R. Proccacino. "He's doing an excellent job," he said. "He's dedicated, conscientious, takes an interest in the young and he is a real worker. He leads the department in overtime hours by far. We're very fortunate to have him."

As far as crime in the borough, there were in 1969 no homicides; armed robbery was the same as the year before (nine) but the number of assaults increased three to 47, breaking and enterings rose from 99 to 137 in 1969 and larcenies of all types jumped from 286 to 361. One reason for the rise in larcenies, Chief McCrohan explained, is that the figure includes the loss of wallets to sneak thieves — "we get a lot of those" — and wallets and articles stolen on house party weekends at the university when the number of such cases is always high.

Theft Loss at $113,000. The value of property stolen last year totaled, $113,614 of which $34,654 was recovered by the police. "We get the wallets back but never the money," said Chief McCrohan.

The number of adult arrests in 1969 rose from 90 the year before to 149; for juveniles the rise was sharper — from 90 to 172. Car thefts, however, dropped from 34 in '68 to 26. There were four suicides.

Traffic and Parking. Chief McCrohan confirmed what everyone knows when he said, "The parking situation in Princeton is very critical. I believe it is advisable to make a comprehensive survey soon, as it is getting worse all the time."

Just how bad is parking? Well, 25,906 summonses for parking violations were written last year, 2,692 more than the year before. Of these, 17,944 were for overtime parking. "That's an awful lot of tickets, which shows how critical the parking situation in the central business district is," commented Chief McCrohan.

In addition, Borough police issued 1,460 moving violations — 749 for speeding. "In a town less than two square miles, that's a lot of speeding," the chief said. Of the 749 speeding violations — up 127 over '68 — 597 were the result of radar and 152 were issued by men in a patrol car. Drunk driving arrests were up seven to 17 in '69.

Mercer Street retained its title as the worst for speeding with 204 arrests. Hodge Road rose to second place with 175, followed by Harrison Street (103) Hamilton Avenue (90) and Prospect Avenue (52).

Traffic accidents in the Borough rose from 249 to 329, of which 225 were reported to the state because they involved over $200 damage or personal injury. For these 225, police issued 184 summonses. Injuries rose from 112 to 151. There were no fatalities. (The last one occurred in 1967).

There were 125 fires reported in the Borough, 71 of which were extinguished by the police. There were nine bicycle and 13 pedestrian accidents in 1969 — both considered low by the police. "Considering the number of bicycles in Princeton and the number of student pedestrians, we were very fortunate," said Chief McCrohan.

To give an idea of the volume of police work involved in areas other than preventing crime, Chief McCrohan revealed that his department fingerprinted 608 people last year, took 333 photographs, housed 99 in the Borough jail. His officers logged 2,000 hours in in-service training attending various schools and seminars.

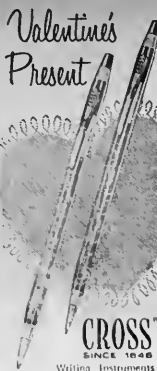

There were 59 scheduled Borough court sessions, involving 216 scheduled criminal cases and 871 motor vehicle cases.

And finally, for the incurable statistic buff, Borough police patrol cars together traveled a total of 127,128 miles in 1969. That's better than four times around the world, although the scenery doesn't change as often.

Chamber Orchestra to Offer Princeton Premiere

Arno Safran, Composer and Critic

"Somewhat neo-classical, but frankly neo-romantic as well," is the way Arno Safran describes his new Tocata for Strings to be heard in its Princeton premiere on Thursday, February 19, with the Princeton Chamber Orchestra in the John Witherspoon School auditorium.

The Safran work was commissioned by the chamber orchestra and its director, Nicholas Harsanyi.

Mr. Safran says that, although his Tocata is not program music, it was nevertheless inspired by the political events of 1968 which culminated in the assassinations of Martin Luther King Jr. and Robert Kennedy.

"My music was inspired from the spirit of the young people engaged in their drive to change outmoded policies of the 'establishment' during that political year of 1968," he says. "The driving, rhythmic nature of much of the music is an attempt to portray this energetic spirit."

Contra Basso, "Drive," "Energy" and "rhythm" characterize Mr. Safran as well as his new composition.

This vigorous, dynamic 37 year old first became known to Princeton in 1959 when he started teaching music at Littlebrook School. He came from Rochester, N. H., where he was supervisor of music in the public schools, and he's gone on to Trenton State College where, since 1965, he's been assistant professor of music.

For three summers, he worked and the verb is a slow coda. It plays in a little more than ten minutes.

"The death of Martin Luther King Jr. and Robert Kennedy affected all of us," Mr. Safran says, "and their spirit is woven into the musical fabric of my Tocata. There are hints of American Spiritual-type phrases, pitched against the ethnic folk styles of Latin American, Hungarian and Israeli, melodic and rhythmic lines, although no actual folk music is used."

The composition, Mr. Safran explains, is not a "Tocata" in the strict Baroque sense. He has used the term "to denote the overall sound of the music of the first and final sections."

Music in Princeton

MUSIC FROM MARLBORO
Distinguished Performers
On Monday night, it was "Music From Marlboro" once again, and as always, the renowned musical troubadours distinguished themselves with sound performances of works by Nielsen, Schubert and Mozart.

This time the concert consisted of music for Wind Instruments and Piano. Members of the ensemble included Paula Robinson, flote; Joseph Turner, oboe; Larry Combs, clarinet; Robert Sola, horn (a replacement for the ailing John Barrows); and William Winstead, bassoon. Richard Goode was at the piano in the concert given in 10 McCosh Hall.

The program began with the Quintet for Winds, Opus 43 by Carl Nielsen. In recent years recordings of the Danish composer's symphonies, concertos and chamber music have established belated recognition in America, at least to the composer's personal style and mode of expression.

Nielsen, born a year after Richard Strauss and in the same year as Sibelius, was one of those extraordinary original thinkers in musical terms who was born perhaps ten years too soon. Much of his music abounds in a melodic style that not only fluctuates between major and minor.

Little German Influence. Occasionally the composer delves into the use of church modes for variety and quite often emphasizes with his native folk spirit. Considering the treatment of gods and Wagner's music still on the majority of Nielsen's contemporaries, it is refreshing to hear music so free from much of the Teutonic influences at that period.

The Quintet by Nielsen is a delightful work. It is an ex-trremely idiomatic score, written with ideas that are distinctly for wind instruments. The playing was superb. No other combination of instruments could better express the composer's material here. The playing was superb. Miss Robinson set the time with her blithe spirit and the rest of the performers emulated her style.

This is delicate, sensitive music, quaint at times, but of ten poignant and haunting. From an ensemble standard the playing was accurate, well balanced and rhythmically secure. It was hard to believe that Mr. Sola was a last minute replacement for John Barrows, an excellent horn player in his own right. Richard Sola is a complete professional and blended beautifully into the musical fabric of his colleagues. His solo work was all the more powerful for not dominating.

Schubert Accompanying. The Schubert "Introduction and Variations" (D. 802) for flute and piano is not a very convincing piece of music. It has the charm and lightness of most lesser Schubert works and indeed, there are many delightful moments in the variations, but on the whole, the piece is no more than a vehicle for the flute soloist. Miss Robinson delivered a thoroughly stunning rendition. She played sensitively, never trying to overpower the music.

The concluding work on the program, Mozart's "Quartet in Eb Major for Piano and Winds," K. 452, brought together Richard Goode and the four wind players heard earlier in the Nielsen composition. The work is scored for oboe, clarinet, horn, bassoon and piano.

Mr. Goode, a brilliant pianist and chamber music performer, as past Marlboro concerts here will show, simply did not get the piece moving enough. The musical content is less than too much Mozart anyway, despite the general greatness of Mozart's personal style.

The music lagged and with it, this listener's interest. In general, it might be said that the ensemble performed well enough, with taste and feeling for the music, but Mr. Goode's approach to his part seemed too "romanticized," perhaps too much in the style of the concerto than chamber music.

LENOX QUARTET HERE
To Give Beethoven Works
The Lenox Quartet will return here Monday to play an all Beethoven program at McCarter Theater, under the auspices of the Princeton University Concerts, series II. Tickets for the 8:30 performance are still available.

The "Lenox" takes its name from the town of its birth (1958) in Massachusetts, where the members of the quartet were the faculty of the Berkshire Music Center (Tanglewood Summer Festival).

During four summers they were involved in the contemporary music program of the Fromm Foundation, as mem-

TWO POINTS FOR PENN. BUT TOO LATE: Princeton captain Tom Potte (dark shirt) suffered a take-down in the closing seconds of his bout in the 167-lb. class, losing an 8-7 decision. However, match was one of only three Quakers won Saturday as Tiger wrestlers scored one-sided 23-to-9 victory in big step toward Ivy title.

SPORTS in Princeton

HIG. ONE: FOR TIGERS
Maitene Snap Long Penn Streak. During a weekend which saw the basketball team break even against teams it had previously beaten, and the hockey, swimming, squash and track teams all lose, Princeton's wrestlers scored a major triumph. Before a crowd of better than 1,000 in Judwin Gym Saturday afternoon

they soundly defeated Pennsylvania, 23 to 9, thereby ending a 25-match winning streak compiled by the Quakers over the past three seasons. It was an occasion for Tiger wrestling fans to savour, starting as it did with a pin scored by the 118-lb. entry after there was question as to whether he could make the weight, and ending with three clear cut decisions that doused any hope of a Penn comeback. Both teams entered the meet undefeated, with the outcome rated largely as a toss-up.

On more than one occasion this winter, Princeton has started a match five points down because it has had to default the 118-lb. class. Because of the importance of the meeting with Penn (the winner is a virtual shoo-in for the Ivy title), sophomore Jeff Raab spent the days leading up to the match losing weight — but not strength. When he unexpectedly pinned his opponent with a tight cradle, he got Princeton off to a fine start.

After three bouts, the home team led, 11-0, but Penn took the 142 and 150-lb. weights to narrow the margin to 11-6. The 150 and 167-lb. bouts were split, making it 14-9, Princeton, but giving Penn a chance to win if it could take two of the next three.

Sophomore Ted Madden, wrestling at 177, stayed in front of his man on points, added riding time, and won, 10 to 6. A pair of Tiger football players, Emil Deliere at 181 and heavyweight Chuck Drevel then dominated their opponents, Deliere winning over the favored Penn co-captain, Dave Pottruck.

The triumph was a major success for Coach John Johnston, whose team must still defeat Brown, Harvard, Yale and Cornell to take the Ivy title. A major eastern foe, Lehigh, is due in Judwin Gym the night of February 25.

STREAK IN DANGER

As Tigers face Yale, Ever since Bill Bradley was a sophomore, Princeton has managed to beat Yale in basketball. The Elis last won in January of the season (1962) when the former All-American came up to the Princeton varsity, the Tigers going on to take the return game at New Haven and an ensuing playoff for the Ivy title in Fordham University's Rye Hill gym.

In all, Princeton has 14 straight triumphs over the Blue, but with the problems it has been encountering this winter, there is some question a

Something New Is Planned In College Baseball

College baseball, which once drew a couple of thousand fans to a Saturday afternoon game at University Field but has more recently seen days at Clarke Field when children and dogs outnumber adults, will seek to give the fans something new this spring.

A major revision in scheduling policy has been adopted by the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League. Conceivably, the greater requisite to success is co-operation from the Weather Man.

All games are scheduled for Fridays and Saturdays. All teams will play three contests — a single game Friday and two seven-inning affairs Saturday. If it rains Saturday, the doubleheader will be played Sunday. To make the entire package even more compact, the league schedule has been squeezed into a six week period — from Friday, April 10, to Saturday, May 18. Rain, obviously, can itself determine the league champion if key contests are washed out and affect the final standings. It is, however, a brave try and one that goes against the current tendency to mail college athletic schedules rather than to expand them.

Tough Start for Tigers. The degree of success Princeton will have under the new format may well be determined in the very first week. The Tigers open at home Friday, April 10, against Harvard, invariably one of the stronger teams in the east, and then entertain defending champion Dartmouth in a doubleheader the next day.

That will be the last time Coach Eddie Donovan's team will be at home in league action during April. Intriguingly, the Orange and Black will face Yale at New Haven on April 17 — a fact cry from the days when the Elis traditionally brought the Princeton season to a fitting climax on the final day of the season.

Doubleheaders away are scheduled with Brown at Providence and with Army at West Point. The other Friday road games, in addition to the contest with Yale, is against Cornell at Ithaca the day before the twin bill with the Devils.

Navy will be here Friday, May 1, for a single game, with Penn playing on Clarke Field twice the following afternoon. A doubleheader with Columbia on May 9 ends the Tigers' league season. Preparation for the championship portion of the schedule will begin in late March with a week's action in South Carolina.

bout its ability to continue dominating the rivalry first of the 1970 home-and-home meetings is set for Jadwin Gym Saturday at 8; the second will be played at New Haven one week later.

The Elis, no better than 9-16 and fifth in the league last year, are exactly at the .500 mark (9-9) this season and in somewhat surprising third in Ivy action. They played their best basketball during the holidays when they won the Rainbow Classic in Honolulu, after having been figured for last place in the eight-team field.

Junior Jim Morgan, a 5-11 guard who is averaging better than 21 points a game, is Yale's principal threat. A host of sophomores, 6-6 Mike McLarea and 6-4 Scott Michel, are also in double figures with a dozen points each on an average night.

Jack Langer on Eli Squad. Captain Thatcher Shellaby, 6-3, is the fourth starter, with either 6-8 Jack Langer or 6-9 John Whiston jumping center. Langer is the highly celebrated figure in the case of Yale University vs. the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

When the Elis gave him permission last summer to represent this country on a basketball team playing in the Maccabiah Games in Israel, the NCAA waved the magic wand it points at eastern colleges which do not bow-to its unilateral decisions and told Yale it was barred from participation in all NCAA post-season tournaments for two years. Even more unfortunately, many of Yale's neighboring colleges in the ECAC are likewise calling the Elis to account for their effrontery in allowing a young man to partake in athletic activity from which jurisdictional red tape had not been unbound.

Brown, well below the .500 mark at 5-13 but good enough to win from Cornell and Dartmouth at Providence, will play here Friday night at 8. It has been 10 years since the Bruins last won a basketball game from Princeton.

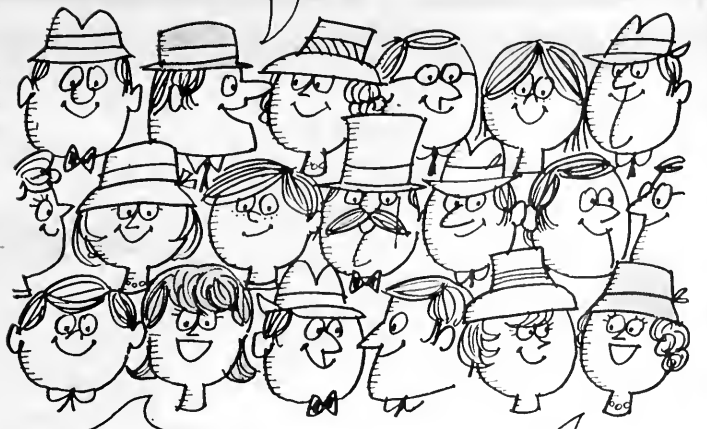

They are improving after a 3-25 season a year ago but will

FIRST LUNG IN 10 YEARS
For Tiger Quintet at Hanover, John F. Kennedy had barely moved into the White House in the winter of 1960 when Princeton lost a basketball game to Dartmouth at Hanover. That was the last time the Tigers had been beaten there until Friday night, when the Indians survived a belated rally by the visitors to win, 70 to 69.

The problem was two-fold: Princeton could not contain Dartmouth sophomore Paul Efrand, whose 29 points were almost 50% above his game-average, and three members of the Tiger starting lineup fouled out. That trio included Jeff Petrie, as well as Bill Sicker and Bob Ryder.

The Indians' two top players, Efrand and senior Alex Winn, combined for 48 points, while the best Petrie and John Hamner could do was 37—19 of which came from Hamner. There were four Princetonians in double figures even though they lost. Sicker and Ryder each making 10. The Tigers were, however, guilty of sloppy ball as they were charged with 19 turnovers in addition to the many fouls that worked against them.

The loss dropped Princeton below the 500 mark in Ivy action until the Saturday night game with Harvard, which the Tigers won, 80-64. Petrie was good for 27 at Cambridge, followed by Hamner with 23 as a couple of seniors from the Boston Celtics watched with interest.

SKATEERS ARE HOPEFUL
Of Leaving Cellar to Yale. A pair of games this Saturday and next will in all probability determine whether Princeton's hockey team will finish in the Ivy League cellar, or whether it has the ability to consign Yale to the dungeon.

The Tigers head for New Haven Saturday to play an Eli team that is just about their equal when measured in terms of season-long frustration. Each has beaten Northeastern and RPI; Yale has defeated Penn, Princeton has tied Brown. To top off the similarity, each team began the week with an even dozen losses.

Hard as it may be to believe, Yale's offense is even weaker than Princeton's. Going into the Dartmouth game Saturday, the Elis had scored just three goals in their last four outings.

They got six against the Indians, but on the other hand, they allowed 10, and they did not break loose until the Green had moved out to a 2-2 lead. On the strength of fine goal-tending by Captain Middy Fluhman, it may be that the Tigers can prevail in this series.

Penn, once automatically tabbed for first place because it had always been there since joining the league in 1966, will be here next Wednesday intent on duplicating its 8-2 triumph of last week over the Orange and Black. (For the result of Tuesday's game with Colgate, see page 32.)

Hot Trick in 15 Minutes. A sophomore forward, Sam Gellard of Troro, Nova Scotia, last Thursday became the first player in memory to score five goals against Princeton. He gave fair notice of his intentions by getting three in the first 15 minutes as the Quakers also recorded an astonishing hat trick in their rivalry. In the space of five days, they

Christ Jesus taught and proved the power of Truth
 to heal.
 The Bible records that he "healed all manner of disease among the people,"
 and he taught all those

 and do likewise."
 And many do.
 Christian Science teaches
 the present power of God
 to heal, and this healing is going on today throughout the world.

 beat Harvard 7-1 in goal and Princeton, scoring 17 goals to a mere 7 for the somewhat bedraggled Big Three.

Tim Cutter, another member of Penn's first line, likewise had a field day at Princeton's expense, scoring three goals and adding four assists. The Tigers had a 5-0 lead before Princeton averted a shut out with goals by Jack McNab and Bert Myers.

A Harvard team that was no better than 7-6 on the season took charge of the game Saturday, breaking out to a 2-0 lead and maintaining that margin until its last goal just before the end made it 6-3 to 3. A top-flight effort by Princeton could conceivably have averted an upset, but this Tiger team makes too many mistakes to be in the ball game most of the time.

With less than six minutes gone, Joe Cavanaugh, center on the Crimmon's first line, grabbed a loose puck, steered it through a disorganized Princeton defense and went in on Tighe alone, beating him with a flip to the right corner. Less than three minutes later, the visitors scored while they were a man short on another defensive lapse by the uncoordinated Tigers.

The lovers were never badly out of contention, leaving the ice after one period behind 3-1 and then matching Harvard's two goals with a pair of their own in the second. Jim Tittemore, Art Schimon and Tom Wright scored for Princeton.

FIVE GAMES TO GO
 For PHS Outlets, The Princeton High School basketball team has five games remaining and it finds itself in the heady position of knowing it will not end with a losing season even if it should lose all five.

"We're going at it game by game," commented coach Larry Ivan. And, of course, less the post-season state tournament for which PHS has qualified for the first time in at least a half dozen years. "We're looking forward to it," Ivan said. "It's a big morale booster for the team."

Of the remaining five contests, four will be away. The Little Tigers will be at Bridge-water Parkland West for what they hope will be a lucky Friday the 13th, and at Sleinert on Tuesday. Both games will start at 8.

For the results of Tuesday's game with Trenton High School, see page 32.

Montgomery Easy Win. In its only game last week PHS defeated winless (0-10) Montgomery Township, 54-25, on the losers' court. The victor upped Princeton's record to 11-3.

"We came back pretty well; it was a big game for us," commented Ivan. "We were more relaxed. When you take a trouncing like that (the 62-19 loss to Ewing), it's difficult to come back."

Paul Riddell played his best game in some time, pulling down 12 rebounds and scoring 10 points. Tim Taggart also came up with perhaps his best overall performance. Tim scored six points, grabbed nine rebounds, had five stolen balls and three assists. In addition, Ivan reported that John Schmidt "played his usual steady ball game." Schmidt had seven points.

Ahead, 25-13, at the half, PHS broke the game open with a 20-4 spurt. In the third period, Eleven players scored for PHS as Ivan cleared his bench in the final period. Jeff Haring tied Riddell for scoring honors with 10 points.

NCAA Playoff Game Set for Jadwin

An eastern regional NCAA basketball playoff game has been scheduled for Jadwin Gymnasium on Saturday, March 7. The starting time has not yet been announced, but it is likely to be held in the afternoon.

Games will be played the same day in the University of Pennsylvania Palestra and at St. John's in New York. Television at one or more sites is a possibility.

Pairings for the games will be announced by February 26. Winners of three championships — the Ivy League, the Middle Atlantic and Southern conferences — will oppose three eastern teams chosen at large. One certainly is St. Bonaventure; other possibilities are Villanova, Providence and Niagara.

Penn and Davidson are the probable representatives of the Ivy League and Southern Conference, although the latter must win in a playoff. So must the representative of the Middle Atlantic Conference, where no team is head and shoulders above the pack.

While Princetonians might prefer to see Penn play here, it is more likely that the Quakers will be assigned to St. John's, a gym with which they have no familiarity. However, on the off chance that Penn and Columbia finish in a tie for the Ivy title, a playoff between the two Ivy teams would of all likelihood be staged in Jadwin on Tuesday, March 3.

...ing and they ran us off the course," said Leete.

Ross High Scorer, Mike Ross, led Hun with 21 points. Maguire (14), Rich Zieker (13) and Dirk Whitehead (12) followed by Maguire's 16.

Earlier in the week, Hun dropped Solebury, 77-53. Again Ross was high with 26 points followed by Maguire's 16.

Leete commented that in the past few games, Maguire, who the week before became the first Hun player to score more than 1,000 points, has not been shooting as much, preferring to pass off to the open man.

"We've got to get him shooting again. We need his scoring," said Leete.

OFF TO NEW ENGLAND
PDS Sestet Heading North

The last time the Princeton Day School hockey team in visited New England it gave the Northern boys a lesson in superb defensive hockey and came away with a contest against the Milne and Noble and Greenough Christmas Tournament. On route to the championship, the Panthers blanked Milton 2-0, napped Kent 2-1, and shutout Berk 3-0.

On this trip the Panthers have a rematch against Kent on Friday afternoon, followed by a contest against South Kent on Saturday. Kent is definitely the stronger of the two, and the word is out that it is still smarting from the defeat in the journey and is more than ready to give the Panthers a battle.

Prior to the weekend games, the Blue and White was scheduled to go against Beacon Hill Club in Summit on Wednesday afternoon. Beacon Hill is largely an unknown quantity from year to year. Last season the Panthers defeated the team 2-0 in the only meeting between the two.

A pair of victories over the weekend will go a long way toward taking the sting out of the heartbreaking overtime loss in Hill last Wednesday. Behind 2-1 in the game with only two minutes remaining, when Buzz Woodworth tallied on a slip shot from the point, on assists from Sam Rodgers and Fred Schluter.

The score sent the game into overtime, giving the Panthers a new lease on life. However, they failed to mount much of an attack with a man advantage and then went a man down on a penalty call. On a faceoff near the PDS net a Hill player "gulled" a shot.

Earlier in the contest, PDS got off to an early advantage on the first period on an un-assisted goal by Jim Rodgers. Hill was held in check the second period. But PDS pulled in two goals to grab the lead.

Coach Harry Rube-Muller described the game as full of hard skating and team work on the edges, and Debebe Young looking playing well throughout the action. The loss dropped PDS's record to 8-2.

INDOOR TENNIS PLANNED

Each Saturday for Janiors, Members of the J. Tennis Committee will assist in a program for juniors on the indoor courts in Javlin Gym each Saturday from 8 to 9:30 a.m. under the supervision of adults.

The next meeting of the committee will be held at the home of Louise Ferguson, 38 Crooked Tree Lane, on Wednesday. Those interested in assisting in any phase of the program are welcome to attend. For further information contact "Dunk" Asano, 921-2182.

Livingston Johnson, Bob Daule, Marsha and Hordemaker won the 11/12 200 yard medley relay, and Kendall Price, Jim Bolster, Cook and McKenna won the same race in the 13/14 bracket.

First place winners for the girls were Ginny Adams, Marsha Laskey, Carrie Bolster, Margaret Johnson, Margaret Martin and Marina Dorgan. Dele Hordemann and Ginny Thon won the 13/14 200 yard freestyle relay, while Peggy Jacoby, Martha Gilman, Bolster and Martin captured a 200 yard relay for girls 15/17.

PLAINSBORO GAINS TIE

In Bowling League, Plainsboro Package Store has gained a 14 tie with Pin Pals for the first place in the Princeton Women's Bowling League. Rossi's Cafe is third with 12 points, followed by Rocky & Sons which has 10.

Some above average bowling by Suitt's Colonial Pinner produced the high team game of 812 and series of 2159. Pat Brown of Suitt's rolled 192 (141), while Leanne Landis and Catherine McDaniel rolled 175 and 172. The averages of the latter are 121 and 123 respectively.

Marilyn Murphy of Cranbury Bank rolled 267 — the only game in the 200s. Betty Douglas of Rossen's had 182 and Marge Davison of Wild's Shell, 166. Marge's average is 115.

MIS ACQUISITION PLANNED
By Cummins Engine Co. Management Information Systems, a computer software systems firm whose headquarters are at 799 State Road, has reached substantial agreement for its acquisition by Cummins Engine Co., Inc. of Columbus, Ind.

Subject to final agreement, the negotiations will result in an exchange of 18 shares of Cummins stock for each 100 shares of MIS. MIS, traded over the counter, had a range Monday of 43-54. Cummins closed Tuesday on the New York Stock Exchange at 34 1/2. The number of MIS shares outstanding and reserved for options is 52,000.

Herbert R. Kane is president of Management Information Services, which was founded five years ago and went public in February, 1969. Ellwood Kauffman, the firm's executive vice-president, said this week that "merger negotiations are proceeding rapidly and may be consummated by the middle of March."

Directors Must Approve. The proposed acquisition is subject to approval by the directors of both companies and by the shareholders of MIS and completion of definitive agreement. Cummins officials stated that the acquisition of Management Information Systems is a major step in a comprehensive program to achieve "Lower, Total Cost" for fleet operators.

Mainstem, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of MIS, has been developed and is marketing a vehicle cost control system which is being used by municipal, private and common carrier fleets. The Mainstem cost control system provides accurate and current information on all aspects of vehicle performance. Mainstem also provides a consulting service to help implement cost reductions in fleet operations.

MIS has also developed computer software systems for hospitals and for the jewelry and paperboard industries. MIS and Mainstem will continue to be operated independently.

Cummins is the world's leading independent producer of diesel engines. The company pioneered the application of diesel engines for on-highway trucks and today is the major producer for this market. Although Cummins' 1969 results have not been announced, the company said record sales and earnings were established.

ETS HEADS FOR EWING.
ETS Million Center Planned. Educational Testing Service plans to construct a Printing and Distribution Center in Ewing Township, a 100,000-square-foot building to be staffed by more than 100 persons. It will house the educational measurement and research organization's facilities for distribution of its publications and materials to students and educators throughout the world.

The Center will be located on Lower Ferry Road in the Township, north of Upper Ferry Road on a 68-acre tract known as the Shivers property. Henry Chauncey, president of ETS, said that although the building schedule has not yet been completed, construction could get under way as early as this spring. He also said preliminary estimates indicate that costs of the project may exceed $1.5 million.

The new Printing and Distribution Center will be designed by the Princeton architectural firm of Collins, Uhl, Holington, Anderson, "Landscaping and site development will be directed by Clarke & Rapuano, a nationally recognized landscape consulting firm based in New York City.

The Ewing Township Center will replace ETS facilities now located on Princeton Pike in Lawrence Township where operations for expansion were halted because of condemnation action by the State of New Jersey for construction of Route 1-293.

QUICK SALE PLANNED?
Tips Offered to Home Owners. John T. Henderson, Inc., Princeton Realtor, has "listed" "The Reader's Digest" to help their clients sell homes this spring. A recent of a four-page article entitled, "Want to Sell Your House in a Hurry?"

ells homeowners about some time-tested techniques to speed the sale and, perhaps, to turn a profit.

Did you know how important a coat of fresh paint can be? Replacing broken window panes, having every electric switch work properly, a wood fire crackling in the fireplace, a bowl of fresh flowers, or merely lighting a lamp here and there? Often, it may only take one of these to help a buyer decide on your house instead of another.

Some people are dubious about putting up a sign. The Henderson office, whose sign was an award from the Board of Commerce, knows how valuable a selling tool a sign can be — they commissioned a noted Princeton architect to design one for them. And many a sale has been traced to the tall, decorative Colson plaque which says "Available" or "For Sale" or "Buy!"

This Reader's Digest article also contains the name of the owner who is absolutely sure he can sell his property himself. And some equal advice about getting in line with the market when the time comes to putting a price on your palace.

To the homeowner who wants to be on hand and try to help the salesman sell, The Reader's Digest has a blunt word of warning — don't! By all means, give the reader all the facts about your property, but when the time for the appointment comes, turn off the TV, pack the children and the pets in your car and go for a ride.

The Reader's Digest article also gives homeowners a clearer idea of how carefully a realtor has to plan a sale, of how much time he has to devote to studying his prospect, to learning exactly what he needs and wants.

Reprints are available from Henderson Realtors, Alexander Street, by calling 921-2776.

FM STATION PURCHASED.
By Nassau Broadcasting. The Nassau Broadcasting Company, owner of WJZZ in Princeton and WTOA in Trenton, has begun operation of its third radio station, WJZZ in Bridgewater. The firm assumed ownership of the 25,000 watt FM station last week after obtaining FCC approval in mid December. WJZZ operates at 99.3 on the FM dial, and serves lower Connecticut, lower New Jersey

State, and Long Island. It was formerly owned by the Nassau Division Company of Connecticut.

Three employees of Nassau's New Jersey stations will be transferred to Bridgeport to assist the station manager, John Campana, who is a native of that city. Those moving will be Jim Scanlon of WJZZ, Chris Canali of WTOA, and John Vidaver, who has been on both WJZZ and WTOA.

At ceremonies closing the transfer of ownership last Saturday, were Herbert W. Hobart, Nassau Broadcasting President, Ralph S. Mason, secretary, Daniel Covelli, director of FM services, and Daniel Shields, director of administration.

NEW RATES IN EFFECT.
At Princeton Savings. Higher rates will be paid, effective immediately, on new savings certificates at Princeton Savings and Loan Association. Executive vice president William H. Hower announced this week that the new rates will be 6 1/2% on two year certificates (minimum $10,000) 5 1/2% and 5 1/4% on one year certificates (for $5,000 minimum and $1000 minimum respectively, and 5 1/2% on six-month certificates (minimum $1000).

Interest will be compounded from the day of deposit on all certificates, increasing their effective yield. In addition, the rate on regular savings accounts has been increased to 3 1/2% a year, compounded quarterly, effective January 1.

Mr. Hower noted that the new rates are the highest available in the U.S. under new legal regulations. Princeton Savings and Loan Association, with assets of $19,000,000, is located at 19 Chambers Street.

SKATERS LOSE ANOTHER
Colgate Wins on Rally. An explosive four goal rally, started within less than five minutes after the third period began, brought Colgate a 3-1 victory over Princeton in the ice hockey Tuesday night, Feb. 10, at the rink. The visitors, after not scoring a berth in the first two periods, entered the third on the strength of a 2-0 lead and promptly scored home after a solid demonstration of a coordinated offense.

The Raiders took an early lead but were fish-baited by a goal by sophomore John Heburn 21 seconds before the first round ended. Jack McNabb's sharp shot from 23 feet, sent the Colgate goalie mid-way through the second period to put the Tigers ahead.

After the visitors had subsided from their four-goal outburst, Heburn scored again for Princeton. While Colgate was two goals short, the Tigers hung a 2-1-3 record on the Tigers.

HOUSE HUNTING?

REAL COLONIAL . . . here is an old Colonial, charmingly restored, which is ideal for a couple, 200 years old, but with all the modern conveniences. Plenty of land down-hill from the house for gardening, play a for that over-sized privacy. A closer look behind its faded brick facade and shake roof reveals a home decorated with loving care. Resides a warm living room with adjoining dining area, there's a den with beamed ceiling, a music room with a slate floor, comfy kitchen, as well as upstairs 3 bedrooms, sitting room, and bath. What an opportunity golf course. The house hides behind tall shade trees and clipped hedges that over-extended privacy. A closer look behind its faded brick facade and shake roof reveals a home decorated with loving care. Resides a warm living room with adjoining dining area, there's a den with beamed ceiling, a music room with a slate floor, comfy kitchen, as well as upstairs 3 bedrooms, sitting room, and bath. What an opportunity room with fireplace, dining room, large kitchen, laundry, family room, 3 den, 2 bedrooms and 2 baths are on the first floor. Second floor, 3

tiful trees, this house has many special construction features. Owners

ment with an extra living room now used for TV. 14'x27' family room
